PATENT INFORMATION
Title Of Invention: A kind of double card intelligent card buckle sealing machine
Application Type: Patent	Patent type: Conventional - Foreign
Abstract: This invention discloses a dual-card smart card buckle sealing machine, a device in the sealing machine technology field. The sealing head is equipped with a guiding sealing assembly, while an outer guide frame is mounted on its exterior. The fixed retaining ring's base is welded to a support bracket, with a rotating base plate installed at its inner bottom. An inner ring is welded to the top center of the rotating base plate, and a fan-shaped block is welded to the shaft's top. The inner ring is uniformly welded with a gate plate conduit. A packaging conveyor assembly is installed on the sealing machine's side at the workbench's top surface. The invention reduces height differences, preventing collisions and damage during item drop. Different items are discharged and collected through separate discharge ports, facilitating both collection and classification of various items. It is suitable for net bag packaging processes of different fruits and vegetables. The system controls the operation of each device according to the operator's progress, enabling intelligent operation. It is suitable for operators of varying skill levels and benefits the industrialized food processing and packaging workflow
